Preface
From the Scapula to the Scaphoid

We have challenged an extraordinary group of experts to cut through the typical redundancy of information present and available on upper extremity fracture care. They have more than succeeded in providing succinct articles of the best evidence and experienced opinion.

As editors, we are honored and thankful to have interacted with their carefully composed works. Regardless of whether the reader is a hand surgeon, plastic surgeon, or orthopedic surgeon, we feel this collection offers tremendous opportunity not only to learn but also to understand and digest the emerging concepts of upper extremity trauma.

Michael P. Leslie, DO
Trauma and Reconstruction
Yale University School of Medicine
800 Howard Avenue
New Haven, CT 06520, USA
Department of Orthopaedics and Rehabilitation
Yale University School of Medicine
800 Howard Avenue
P.O. Box 208071
New Haven, CT 06520, USA

Seth D. Dodds, MD
Hand and Upper Extremity Surgery
Orthopaedic Surgery
Department of Orthopaedics and Rehabilitation
Yale University School of Medicine
800 Howard Avenue
P.O. Box 208071
New Haven, CT 06520, USA

E-mail addresses:
michael.leslie@yale.edu (M.P. Leslie) seth.dodds@yale.edu (S.D. Dodds)